

Dear Friends & Family,

At Ambassadors Football, we've recently been reviewing our values which include: INNOVATION, TEAM, CHURCH, & SERVANT-HEARTED

It's been really affirming to receive reports and pictures from our staff around the world and see how they're reflecting those values as they share the Gospel through soccer ministry around the world.

I thought you'd also feel encouraged by taking a look at the pictures below, knowing that your prayers and support is fueling this Kingdom work.

INNOVATION: Coconut shell Cones (I love this picture!)

Pictured above, here's an example of just 1 of our 6000 coaches in more than 60 countries that Ambassadors has envisioned & trained to impact their community through soccer. Embracing one of our values, Innovation, he is painting coconut shells to use as cones so that he can reach the children in his "closed" country.

TEAM: I met Daniel (in royal blue) on a TREC (our training course) in South Africa in 2005. He has faithfully served in his home country in Mozambique ever since. We are thankful for men and women like Daniel who work in difficult countries with limited resources. It is a privilege to come alongside him and many others to help them reach the next generation with the Gospel.

CHURCH: In Rwanda we get to partner with a church denomination to minister to 6000 children in 60 schools around the country. That's a lot of kids who need soccer balls. The dirt pitches of Rwanda are not too kind to most soccer balls. The solution: make their own. So that is what our Ambassadors staff in Rwanda are doing. Ambassadors is helping the Church in Rwanda to connect with the next generation. Other denominations in Rwanda and neighboring countries are taking notice and asking for help to do likewise.

SERVANT-HEARTED: In Nepal, they were forced to cancel camp last year. The kids were excited to come back this year to hear from Footy & his friends about what the Bible has to say through our curriculum Toward the Goal. The excitement got the most of this little one.

IRELAND: Claire and Alyssa have been selected for an Ambassadors team that will go to Ireland from June 12th-20th. The team, that I'll be coaching, will be doing outreach to help our Ireland office expand their impact. They have gotten half way to their goal. Consider helping them get all the way there by making a donation by May 25th: 2023 Ireland Tour

Thanks to so many of you who've already donated!!

Grateful,
Matt for the Pheneger Family
